I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

Having talked, for some time, in my weekly newspaper letter, and in my weekly radio report, about coming home by boat, with varying difficulties, I should at least report to you that we finally made it, and that I'm home. I find a general interest in this method of travel and several questions waiting for me, about how to arrange it, and what it's like.

There's no mystery about it. There are all sizes and kinds of ships, commercially, from the big passenger ships which carry hundreds of passengers and little or no cargo, to the ships, big or little, which carry mostly cargo, and few if any passengers. Each has its advantages and disadvantages. The bigger ships have more comforts, perhaps I should say luxuries, with accompanying formalities, and generally faster. Ships like the French Line cargo and passenger boat, about which I spoke last week, fill a sort of middle place, and freighters, like the DARTMOUTH VICTORY, on which we just came home, put cargo first, and the passengers are incidental. The STEEL ARCHITECT, on which we expected to come home, leaving Brooklyn July 14th, would have carried up to twelve people, and would have stopped at Cristobal and Balboa, but the DARMOUTH VICTORY, which from the name you will see is one of the Victory ships of the late war, this one built by Kaiser in the Portland plant, carried a maximum of four, and came straight through.

During the war, the gun crew occupied a sort of bungalow on the after deck. Then it had two connecting rooms, with bunks, another room of the same size, used for the mess, and when the men were off duty, and a room with showers and toilet for the men. The rest of the square space was taken up by a passage, a small room with three-tier berths, and a small shower-toilet for the officers. The guns were mounted on the top of the "bungalow" and on the rear deck. The ammunition was stowed below. The company simply made the connecting sleeping rooms into one bedroom with two beds, and a nicely furnished lounge with comfortable chairs, a small electric refrigerator for the constant snacks which seem to be necessary on every sea voyage, and an electric hot plate for the early morning coffee and afternoon tea. Two passengers used the larger shower room. The small officers quarters were made into a two-bunk bedroom with the adjoining private bath and toilet. It was a very comfortable arrangements. Cots were put on the deck if we wanted to sleep out on hot nights, and we had four chairs like those we think of Hollywood movie directors using only we didn't have our names painted on ours.

The time always goes too quickly, and it is the only way I know to get a rest, sea level, no mail deliveries, no newspapers, no telegrams, no telephones, and actually no radio, although the ship's radio did try, somewhat unsuccessfully to pick up shore stations. It wasn't until we got in sight of Long Beach that I heard Russia had closed her consulates. I rise to remark that I hope that won't fool you too much. They were largely listening posts, and I regret to add that the USSR has plenty left, unofficial ones.

You can't always find a freighter going where you want to go, when you want it. When you do get aboard, and sail, it will be like all other ocean travel, on a simplified scale. You can leave your dinner jacket at home and take an old pair of trousers and some sport shirts, and a wind breaker for the sea breezes, and for a couple weeks you can forget you are a Congressman, even in the best District in the nation, and in what may someday be called the most important year in that nation's history.

SPORTS

Due to the fact that necessary changes and improvements are being made on the schoolgrounds before the beginning of school, the sport activities of the various local teams had to be suspended for the summer.

The girls have a game with the LaVerne girls out of town before their team is through for the season. A previous game, played with a group of younger boys, ended in defeat and with disastrous physical results, since hardly a member of the girl's team did not meet with some misfortunate accident.

The boys and girls are to be congratulated for building such fine teams during the summer vacation months, after getting a late start into the season, and it is hoped that next year they will be well organized ahead of the regular schedules in order to possibly be included in league play. The boys' team was named "Ernie's drive-in softball team" and the girl's were called "Cypress girls' softball team." It has been Marion Precie's policy to treat each member of the team with a malted milk following every game won, by either the boys or the girls.

Four-Way Stop Assured Citizens Here Informed

The long awaited action, which will give Cypress a badly needed means of traffic control on the busy intersection at Lincoln and Walker, will soon become a reality. In an interview Wednesday with the publisher of this newspaper, James D. Baker, supervisor responsible for the needs of west Orange county, stated that the state will install the often requested stop signs soon.

The Cypress chamber of commerce and other civic organizations have recognized the need for many months to slow down highway travel through the center of town to protect the lives of pedestrians.

Speeding cars and trucks, whose drivers are apparently unaware of the existence of a heavily populated community, on the highway complicated the traffic problem.

At one time it seemed that the town was about to gain this much-needed control, when the road was given a new highway number, bearing the shield of the federal road system, which changed the complexion of the whole set-up.

Baker stated, that following receipt of the recent urgent request from the local chamber of commerce, the usual channels were not followed, but that the county was by-passed and the requet sent direct to the state officials, who have assured Supervisor Baker that the signs will be properly placed very soon.

Other improvements to be made here, according to the supervisor, include opening and surfacing south Watson street from Bishop to Camp streets, and black topping the street in front and to the north of the new fire station, oiling it and making other improvements. He hinted that other needed changes are in the offing.

CLINT MOORE HELPS IN DO - NUT SHOP

Leona Murdock has persuaded Clint "Moore's sinkers" fame to return temporarily and help her supply do-nuts to the cafe trade and to take out. Also helping in rush periods, when the going is a little too heavy for one, is Betty Richmond.

Leona's cafe and do-nut shop is open from six in the morning until eight in the evening.

OREN B. HARVEY ANNOUNCES CHANGE

In his advertisement in this week's issue of the paper, Oren Harvey stresses the change in the emphasis on the products he handles in his business, which is now venetian blinds, paints and wallpaper. He recently sold all items of hardware to the Cypress Hardware Store, and will concentrate on the above, the firm to be known as Harvey's Venetian Blinds and Paints.

Since space in the building has been rented to a third business, and will now house, in addition to his interests, the office of the Cypress Enterprise and a new dress shop, he has re-named the location "Cypress Arcade.

Nazarene Church Holding Revival Invites Public

The local Nazarene church began its fall revival on Wednesday night. The speaker for this series of meetings, which will continue until September 12, is Dr. Ralph Earle, of Kansas City, Missouri. Dr. Earle is the Professor of Biblical Literature of the Nazarene Theological Seminary in that city. He was the speaker at the Southern California District Nazarene camp meeting held recently in Pasadena. Cypress is extremely fortunate to secure the services of such a scholarly minister and the local pastor, Eric E. Jorden, urges the people of this community to come and hear Dr. Earle.

Leading the singing is Miss Clara Christensen. At present Miss Christensen is a teacher of voice at Northwest Nazarene College, in Nampa, Idaho. She will sing at every service and will be arranging for various numbers of special songs. Miss Christensen is not new to Cypress, having held the Daily Vacation Bible school at the local Nazarene church two years ago. Those who heard her then will be glad to know she is back again for this series of meetings.

The time of the meetings is each evening, except Saturday, at 7:30 p.m., and on Sunday at 11: a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Notice!

For those who have never visited a modern dairy, or would be interested in inspecting a number of locally owned dairies in this vicinity, it has been arranged to provide a tour on White Gold Day, beginning at approximately two o'clock, at the schoolhouse. This was also one of the courtesies extended visitors last year to the celebration which honors milk—white gold—and the dairy industry. in which Cypress is geographically the center.

The dairymen extend this invitation especially to those who are not familiar with the latest in modern equipment, and during the tour it will be possible to inspect the barns, watch the milking of the cows, and observe how the product is handled in the milk houses.

"White Gold Day" is Saturday, September 18.

Vote Registration Deadline Sept. 23

Deadline for registration to vote in the November 2 general election is September 23, the state and local government department reminded southland citizens today.

To aid those who are eligible to qualify for the balloting, deputy registars are stationed throughout the country in lobbies of office buildings in department stores, on street corners, and elsewhere.

Residence requirements are one year in California and 90 days in the county. Naturalized citizens must present their certificates the first time they register. Registration is required of those who have changed residence since the primary election or who have not voted in the last two years.

Engagement Of Beverly Inskeep Is Announced

The engagement of Miss Beverly Inskeep of Cypress was recently announced at a party given by her mother, Mrs. M. E. Inskeep, and her sister, Mrs. Sam Coughran, at the latter's home in Anaheim. Her fiance is Raymond Clancy of Huntington Beach.

At the refreshment interval, ice cream was served with individual cakes inscribed "Beverly and Ray" which cleverly announced the betrothal. The bride-to-be then displayed her engagement ring.

No definite date has been set for the marriage, but a holiday wedding is rumored.

The Coughran home was decorated with golden glow and dahlias.

Invited to learn the interesting news were Mrs. Greg Alcott and Mrs. Albert Rees of Anaheim; Miss Orene Felanders and Mrs. Jack Smidow of Midway City; Mrs. Wallace Nelson and Miss Pat Chalker of Sunset Beach; Mrs. Robert Fogg, Mrs. Ray Nunn and Mrs. Milton Herold of Cypress, and Mrs. Wally Potts of Buena Park.

The honoree is employed in the Buena Park Post Office where her brother, Monte Inskeep, is assistnt postmaster.

"BELLE'S BUDGET SHOP" TO OPEN THIS MONTH

Opening soon in the building to be known as "Cypress Arcade" is a new dress shop which wil be called "Belle's Budget Shop". The owner and manager, Mrs. Florence Belle Kennedy, a resident of Cypress, states that she will carry a nice line of reasonably priced apparel for women and children. The date when she will be open officially has not as yet been announced, but notice will be given well in advance.

Mrs. Kennedy has managed dress shops previously, and is busy now with buying and making the necessary preparations to operate. She will not carry a complete line of all merchandise to begin with, but will concentrate on dresses and sportswear.

M/Sgt. Ray Lucas is bemoaning the fact that he had to return to duty last Friday after tasting the luxury of being a man of leisure for the past 30 days. Sgt. Lucas is with the Marine Corps base headquarters squadron at El Toro air station.

Three young artists lend their talents to perform the hard way to bring fun and entertainment to their audiences. This act and 15 others will furnish an interesting program on the afternoon of White Gold Day.

SPECIAL SHOW IS SIGNED FOR CYPRESS WHITE GOLD DAY

Celebrants at White Gold Day, on September 18 in Cypress, will be treated to an afternoon performance of "Miller's variety show". At three-thirty the show, which consists of sixteen acts of vaudeville, will go on. Performing in feats of acrobatics, tap dancing, baton twirling, and entertaining with music and comedy of various kinds, this group of talented youthful actors, who have had a great deal of professional experience presenting their shows throughout California, will be sure to please. Most of the members of the company have appeared on television shows, and several have had parts in moving pictures.

Acting as booking agent for the troup is K. T. "Whitey" Poulson, a familiar figure in Cypress, whose daughter is an entertainer with the group. Also featured is Condra Brooks, a fourteen year-old acrobat who has been pleasing audiences on the stage and screen since she was three years old. She is also a professional model. Just returned from a six weeks' tour of Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, Wyoming, Kansas, Colorado, Idaho, Utah, and Nevada, she will appear in Cypress as one of the sixteen acts.

White Gold Day is an annual community effort to raise funds to help build a recreation park for the children, and is appropriately named "white gold", or milk, to honor the dairy industry, in which center it is geographically located. Other features of the festive day include a parade, horse show and carnival.

IT'S BEING SAID -- IN CYPRESS

That it's all over now, unless you hurry tonight or tomorrow night to catch Holiday stage's "Golden apple", at Tustin. It was our privilege, in company with a group of sorority sisters from Los Angeles (who are pretty mean play-actors themselves, if they put their minds to it) to see this year's final offering, and we couldn't help but think of Jimmie Durante's famous line when he says, "Everybody wants to get into de act." Everybody with talent around Orange county not only seems to get into Holiday stage's acts in "The golden apple", but it is a better show for having had them there. We're a little too old for hero-worship, but there's something about Oliver Cliff when seen upon the stage that keeps us "moony" for days. In fact, we sort of resent Katherine Cornell's having him all next year in her theatre company, but don't tell HER. So, we'll retire gracefully into the winter doldrums, and revive only when we again see the whites of the eyes of Harold Turney and H. Kenn Carmichael next spring, when they make their annual tour of visits to the offices of the press to "sell Holiday stage, and next year they can depend on one less sales talk.

That "Bill" Reed is making some improvements in his plant known as "Cypress cleaners and dyers", but we're almost afraid to chronicle them in this column, in the fateful light of what happened a few months ago when he installed a motor, or was it an engine This time it is a ceiling fan, guaranteed to completely change the air every seven seconds. Yup, that's the way we heerd it.

That if we go next door to the barber shop, we find E. V. Corby is giving the tonsorial parlor a face-lifting, painter C. M. Hamilton being responsible for the "new look". Also, it seems we added a member to the Corby household last week when reporting the surprise arrival of his daughter's family from Kansas City. Betty eJan is Mrs. John Boyd, there being no LITTLE Betty Jean. We will probably lose the Boyd's to Cypress, by the way, since he drives to San Fernando valley every day to his carpenter's work.

That it's all in a day's work for Leona, at the cafe, but while trying to cut corners to save time the other day, she was using the donut delivery truck belonging to Dwight Jacobs to haul tomatoes and potatoes for her "eatery", from Steve Luther's place. It seems truck and occupants tangled with pipes and ditches for irrigation. From here on we can't read the shorthand notes of the remainder of the interview with Leona. She is still her pleasant, cheerful self, though, and in this hot weather, with such long hours, that's saying something.

That is seems we have been unfair—unfair in reporting a rather amazing fact and figure concerning Danny street in Cypress. Of course, these statistics began piling up before there was an official paper for our town exclusively, but we hasten to give you Mrs. Parker's figures for the number of the new babies to date since November on this one little street—a total of ten!

That over at M & H market Lois Laird is being heckled by customers and co-workers because of a bump on her forehead which the usual remarks about bumping into a door, how does the other guy look, etc. Just to surprise Lois, who expects the worst herein, we'll tell the truth. A nasty boil, just at the hairline directly above the eyes at the center of the forehead, caused all that swelling and discomfort. She is rather to be pitied than kidded, an we offer our sympathy. So there.

Gold Trophy Won By Cypress VFW At County Picnic

At the all-day picnic last Sunday in Anaheim park under the auspices of the council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars organizations, Cypress post No. 9847 was awarded the gold cup for having the highest attendance of any post present. Had the women of the auxiliary been organized, they would have carried off high honors for their group, but they were not officially recognized at that time.

Following a program of sports and picnic lunches, a softball game was played comprised of members of Cypress post on one side against Anaheim and Fullerton players on the other. The "contest" progressed to the end of the fourth inning, when the score was 13 to 2, in favor of Cypress, and both sides gave into the extreme heat of the afternoon. The line-up for the local team was O'Leary, catcher; Porter, pitcher; Luty, 1st base; Markel, 2nd base, with Lucas substituting in the fourth; Dye, 3rd base; Wilbur, shortstop; Stiewe, right field, Hathcock, left field. H. J. "Happy" Kreissler kept score.

FUNERAL SATURDAY FOR JOHN WING RESIDENT OF STANTON

John Wesley Wing, 79, a native of Maine, but a resident of California for 44 years, the past 17 of which were spent at his ranch at 10132 Hansen Road, died last Monday at his home after a prolonged illness.

Survivors include the widow, Clara Mae Wing; one daughter, Mrs. Harold E. Wahlberg of Santa Ana; two brothers, Walter F. Wing of Alhambra and Charles Ashton Wing of Los Angeles three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Honor Guest Receives Many Shower Gifts

Many lovely gifts for her baby layette were received by Mrs. Joe Booher when her sister, Mrs. Dorrance DeWitt entertained in her honor on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Moody street. Co-hostess with Mrs. DeWitt was her mother, Mrs. Jack Burrison of Artesia.

Theme of the party was indicated by the tall stork which stood guard over the pile of gifts on the dining room table. Floral arrangements were in pink, blue, and white.

Games were played until gift opening time. Cake, decorated with pink rosebuds, was served with jello with whipped cream. Nut cup favors were dainty little pink bootees.

Present at the pleasant affair were Mrs. Pearl Vaught and Mrs. Elizabeth Teter, both of Gardena; Mrs. Robert Logue, Jr., and Mrs. Raymond DeWitt, both of Garden Grove; Mrs. Anna Booher and Mrs. Robert Zedaker of Anaheim; Mrs. Marguerita Cook, South Gate; Mrs. Charles Gray, Midway City; Mrs. Ruby Leslie, Balboa Island; Mrs. Faye Collins, La Habra; Mrs. Mary Gentry, Fullerton; Mrs. F. L. Noll, Mrs. Aubrey Greenwade, Mrs. Charles Lennerville, Mrs. Donald Bernhart, Mrs. Donald DeWitt, Mrs. Charles Huddleston, the honor guest and the hostesses.

ROBINS CLEANERS TO INSTALL NEW COUNTER

"Bill" Robins is constructing a type of counter which he will install in the front part of his cleaning establishment, giving it a very modern air.

The feature which makes it unusual and attractive is that there is a space midway in the installation which will allow for dresses, suits and coats to hang full length suspended from a rod. This will make the handling of cleaning more convenient for both the cleaner and the customer.

M/M.C. Harry St. Clair and BT-1 Arthur Flaegle of Cypress avenue are very pleased that their ship has been assigned to area repair duty at Long Beach for an indefinite period of time and they will be spending more time at home with their families and friends.

LABOR DAY Monday, Sept. 6

The post office will be closed from Saturday noon until Tuesday holiday, while others will ing distributed on Saturday.

There is no uniformity of closng among the stores, some proprietors stating that they will remain open for the Monday holiday, while others iwll take advantage of the long weekend for a vacation.

NEW WOOD WORKSHOP ON HANSEN READY

Taking orders for work at the shop located in the garage of his home at 9131 Hansen street, Frank J. Galloway comes to Cypress with many years of experience in his work. Having purchased the equipment formerly owned by the Trio Cabinet shop, from Harvey Pennington, Galloway is operating according to the advertisement in this week's issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Galloway moved here from Pittsburg, California, but were originally from Arkansas, where they both were engaged in business for many years, she having owned and operated a group of dress shops.

Patricia Lynn Stars In Musical The Golden Apple

Patricia Lynn, tagged the "lovely lady of song," has come to Orange County fresh from the Sir Francis Drake Persian Room in San Francisco and a winter tour as vocalist for dancers Veloz and Yolanda, to sing the leading role in the Holiday Stage musical comedy, "The Golden Apple", closing the second season of the popular Tustin strawhatter. Miss Lynn, a native Californian, who claims Oakland as her home town, is appearing nightly through Saturday in the gay musical.

Patricia Lynn has sung night-club engagements from New York to Nassau, was NBC's "All

PATRICIA LYNN

American Girl," and appeared in the Victor Herbert musical, "The Only Girl," during its run at the Biltmore in Los Angeles. She has sung on the "Hour of Charm" and was recently nominated by Esquire Magazine as New York's "singing queen."

In "The Golden Apple" Miss Lynn joins Oliver Cliff, Mary Finney and John Alvin of the Holiday Stage resident company in a cast of forty. Co-producers Turney and Mennes are assisted in the staging of the pre-New York production by Barry McGee, technical director.

NEW PLUMBER NOW AVAILABLE HERE

E. M. Quinn, whose business advertisement appears in this issue, has announced that he is interested in Cypress as a future home, if there is enough work here for a plumber to warrant his moving here.

Quinn has been in town on several different occasions. Having a wife and family and not being able to find a place to live in Cypress or a building to house equipment, he is easily available to Cypress residents from Hawaiian Gardens.

Kroesen succeeds Ranald Fairbairn, publisher of the Orange Daily News and Hall replaces Sam Porter of the Newport Daily News-Times.

Speaker at the publisher's meeting which was held at Newport Beach Tuesday evening, was Congressman John Phillips whose weekly column, "I Rise to Remark" is a feature in most papers in the county. ## EVERYBODY'S FAIR

Everybody will have his day at the State Fair.

Thousands upon thousands of visitors are expected to swarm over the Fair Grounds in Sacramento. Children, farmers, State employees, civic organizations, workers, flyers, legislators, women and newspaper boys, to name but a few groups, will have a special day in their honor, somewhere between September 2 and 12. New trimmings will be added and many old ones re-created to make this year's fair one of the greatest of all time.

There'll be horse racing in the afternoons, fireworks and entertainment in the evenings, and a gay-way going full blast both day and night.

But no one will be able to buy a bottle of pop. The lowly soda pop bottle, long a symbol of American fairs and get-togethers, has bowed, in the interest of safety, to the paper cup. It's another mark of the passing of an era.

On with the fair, spectacle of progress!

BABE RUTH—AMERICAN

The game is over, the mighty Babe went down swinging, and America's top sports writers have whipped out stories which will grow and be enlarged upon so long as there is an America.

That fabulous legend—and already it must be called a legend—of the immortal Sultan of Swat, George Herman Ruth, is a fascinating tale of a man who broke nearly every rule governing the actions of a sports idol of them all.

But the Babe's rise from rags to riches broke no rules at all. Babe Ruth was a great American—and his life was another brilliant and colorful chapter in the American success story.

DON'T RELY ON THE OTHER GUY

Famous last words are a dime a dozen among motorists, and more are coined every hour.

In an effort to keep thousands of Californians from writing their epitaphs too early in life, members of the State Junior Chamber of Commerce have joined with the California Highway Patrol and local civic groups in the promotion of "Operaton Safety."

Theme of the Junor Chamber safety drive is simple and to the point: Don't rely on the other guy. Exercise common sense. Be courteous. Drive safely. Live longer!

It's a program which fully deserves the wholehearted, year-round cooperation of every driver in California.

Labor disgraces no man; unfortunately you occasionally find men who disgrace labor. — Ulysses S. Grant, Speech at Arbitration Union, Birmingham, England.

Our Want Ads Get the Best Results

California's famous pears will be featured in many of the 40 county exhibits during the California State Fair in Sacramento new through September 12, and they are delicious, according to pretty Joan Harlow of Sacramento. She says those picked near her own city are the "best in the world". Of course Joan is prejudiced but judges will decide during the fair when $45,000 in premium awards will be split among successful exhibitors of the state's diversified agricultural products.

Fish of Los Alamitos, the new mother being the former Betty Fish, and paternal grand parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ira Brooks of Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cue and children were guests in the Gene Reed home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cu had as their dinner guests on Sunday Bill Ball, Bob Lake and Margie Tedrick of Los Angeles. They were joined later by Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wells and two daughters, Lila and Joann of Bell.

A two weeks' vacation is being spent in Caliente by Miss Ruth Corley in the home of Miss June Melrose.

Newcomers to Los Alamitos are Mr. and Mrs. Howard King and family who are residing at 10942 Reagan street.

Officers were nominated for the business association at its breakfast meeting on Thursday of last week. Election will take place at the October meeting. William G. Cue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Cue of 3591 Howard street, Los Alamitos, has been admitted to the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., as a midshipman, class of 1952.

He will spend the summer months being indoctrinated in the fundamentals of navy life and will start the regular academic course in September.

Summer training includes instruction in infantry, small arms, sailing, signals, and other basic naval subjects.

THIS AND THAT

"Earned insurance, not charity" is the way J. G. Bretherton, manager of the Long Beach, California social security field office described Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits. The number of people who apologize for themselves when they file claims with the Long Beach office of the Social Administration caused him to make the explanation.

"Old-Age and Survivors Insurance," he emphasized, "is not a dole, but an annuity based upon the wage earners' contributions, their own by right of purchase, something to be proud of." Bretherton states there have been actual cases of wage earners 65 years of age and older losing benefits by not filing a claim, when their reason for not filing was that they did not want to admit they were 65 years old no longer working.

The Social Security field office servicing all of Orange county is located at 423 Jergins Trust Building, 100 East Ocean boulevard, Long Beach.

"Stamp Out Cancer" superimposed on James Montgomery Flagg's arresting drawing of trampling a deadly snake, is the campaign slogan of the Cancer Prevention Society, now soliciting the help of every civic-minded person interested in providing the west with its first specialized cancer center.

Other diseases have been conquered, and the battle can be won against cancer if an alerted public will fight. However, public participation is essential, snce this disease is more insidious and infinitely more feared than one which can be laid to the existence of an insect, and the first step in the prevention program is early examinations at regular intervals of presumably well and healthy men, women and children.

Shortest run in Los Angeles history for the Ice Follies of 1949 was announced this week for the Pan-Pacific. Once again the Shipstads and Johnson ice gigantic will stage its world premiere at the Beverly Blvd. arena with the date set for Thursday evening, September 16.

This will be the 13th edition of the show, which through the years has become a Southern California institution. It is beyond doubt one of the most popular and beloved shows ever to appear here.

No expense has been spared in making the "Lucky 13th" edition the greatest in the series of annual productions.

Several new stars have been added to the roster, headed by Marilyn Ruth Take, Olympic Games star and former Canadian skating queen. Other newcomers include Narena and Norris, acrobatic-adagio whizzes; Jackson Nelson and Alex Jackson, hand-to-hand balance wizards and comics, John Mulvey and Ed Dunigan.

Roy Shipstad, the world's smoothest figure skater, tops the long list of returning favorites. Also back are Frick and Frack, Betty Schalow, High Hendrickson, Mae Ross, Billy Stine, Monica Moran, Harris and Phyllis Legg, Hazel Franklin, the Schramm Twins, Dick Rasmussen, Ole Ericsen, Les Hamilton, Virginia Morrison, Carlos Romero, Jr.; and the Scotvold Twins.

Mail orders for the premiere and all other performances in the short run are on sale now at the Pan-Pacific. Send check or money order, designate date and number desired and tickets will be mailed back to you.

For the housewife who is more interested in a roast beef on the table than a prize steer on the hoof, there will be a helping hand and a lot of valuable information at the Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona.

A comprehensive display of meat cuts will offer the bargain hunter in these days of high prices reliable assistance in buying and using meat. The exhibit will be entered by the National Livestock and Meat Board of Chicago in a large refrigerated case with the cuts of beef, pork, veal and lamb temptingly arrayed. The display will be located in the huge new palace of agriculture.

An unusual feature will be an opportunity for visitors to test their skill in identification of the various cuts. Previous experience with the identification contest indicates that only one person of four can identify them correctly.

Twenty-two names were signed as charter members of the ladies' Auxiliary to the local post of the VFW at a meeting held Monday night in the Cypress school. Present were Opal Walter, of Anaheim, department Chief of Staff, Ruby Jeffries of Fullerton, who assisted with the election of officers.

Not only is the local post of the VFW cooperating in the staging of the White Gold Day celebration by operating a hot dog and hamburger stand, but at Thursday night's meeting of the unit, they voted to also enter a decorated car in the parade, and have received the promise of the Santa Ana VFW Drum and Bugle corps to march in the parade.

The new caps of the unit, which has been ordered, were distributed to the members at the meeting.

Charles Daniel, Merle Jennings and Ted Priddy were appointed as a ways and means committee to raise funds to carry on the activities of the post. A series of bingo games are being planned as soon as a suitable building can be found where they can be held.

GARDEN HINTS

By Glenn L. Black

HOME TREE PLANTINGS

Many persons believe the manner of planting them is the most important item to consider in providing trees for a landscape scheme. However, where they are planted shares importance with the how of their planting.

In the first place, why are trees planted? Usually to provide shade. But this function can be served at the same time that the trees are fitted decoratively into the landscape. Looking about, one does not often find this consideration well taken, especially in the case of small homes.

By way of illustration, take the popular evergreen elm. Unlike its deciduous relative, the Chinese elm, it has a dense head, with drooping branches. Proper location of this tree is more important than ascertaining how it should be planted and maintained. As a matter of fact, if it would not fit well into the ultimate scheme of things, however much it may be desired, it would be poor planning to include it.

EXAMPLE OF MISFIT

As an example of how it might misfit, imagine how it would obscure the view from inside the house if planted on axis with a window, as is so frequently done. The pendulous branches, characteristically hanging low to the ground, would screen the view completely if not situated sufficiently far away. To prune the lower branches, so vision might be obtained, would ruin the character of the tree.

Where one does desire a tree to shade the house, and it must be near a window, he should be sure it is off center with the window axis, unless the tree, as a featured specimen, is more important than the existing view.

Otherwise, select trees with high, arching heads. These may not only provide excellent shade, but may be used advantageously to reduce apparently the height of a house normally appearing too tall or peaked. Or they may be used similarly to break up and "soften" harsh appearing gables or angles in a roof line.

TIME TO PLANT FALL AND WINTER GARDENS

If you want to grow your own vegetables this fall and winter, now is the time to plant. This reminder comes from A. H. Holland, Assistant Farm Advisor in Orange County. He suggests location of the garden where it will receive at least six hours of sunshine during the day, and as far away as possible from hedges and shrubs to escape bird damage. Naturally, fertile soil and watering facilities are important prerequisites.

Among the vegetables that can be planted during the next few weeks are beets, carrots, leaf or head lettuce, green onions, radishes, turnips, sprouting broccoli, cabbage and cauliflower. The last three usually are grown from transplants, and the transplanting is best done in the evening.

Where seeds are used, the soil around them must be kept moist until plants appear. After that, frequent light watering should gradually change to heavy infrequent ones. Thinning to proper distances should start when most plants are two inches in height.
